GRADUATION!

There's nothing that makes us prouder than seeing our scholarship students graduate.

When we think about where these children have come from – living on the streets or from families where there wasn't enough money to buy food much less send their children to school – we can't help but marvel at how hard they've worked to achieve this goal.

This year five of our boys graduated from primary school, while five of our Maasai girls graduated from pre-secondary school. All of them are looking forward to attending their new schools.

We thank all of you for making this possible!

(l-r) Hamisi, Derick John, Mbwana, and Ramadhani will be attending Star High School, a top-rated secondary school.

William is awaiting admission to secondary school.

SPONSORSHIP

A Special Kind of Giving

Sponsorship creates real and lasting change in the life of a child. It also forms a unique bond between you and the child you are sponsoring.

Through the report cards you receive and the letters and photos you and your child exchange, you will have the opportunity to witness a young life transformed over time.

You can be a full sponsor or a partial one. You can join with friends or family to sponsor a child. You can tailor your sponsorship to fit your budget.

Contact us for more information or make the decision today (see our insert). You won't regret it and neither will the child whose life you will change forever!

Children in Need of Scholarship Help

We have many children in need of scholarship sponsors. Among them are Mary, Nashipai and Sinyati who joined our roster of Maasai girls last year; the five new girls (four pictured above and Ruth); and Ombeni and Gift. Below Nashipai shares with us some of her life story. She is 14 years-old and in need of a sponsor.

Nashipai

In our boma (yard) we have only a mud house with a corrugated iron roof and one grass roofed hut which we use as a kitchen.

I was already engaged when I was three years (of age). My mother refused my engagement. This made her quarrel with my father. She had to support me to get my primary education while quarreling with my father every day and in some days she was bitten by him. I am grateful that she allowed me to study. I wish to study hard through secondary school and even college.

In my family we are twelve siblings. Five girls and seven boys. My mother is good but my father is harsh to his daughters because he wants us to get married for a dowry to pay for my brothers' education.

Among the things which I hate most and which are tiresome are: farming, building mud houses, fetching firewood. I wish to study until form six and I wish to have my own job one day so that I may help my mother. I will study very hard and I hope God will help me. I do not wish to suffer again the way I suffered in the village.
